Some of our church members know that I almost gave up gardening, but they never gave up encouraging me to continue. I truly want to say thank you to those who offered helpful tips and even shared some of their plants with me!

Recently, I planted some flowers and flower seeds with gardening soil and cow manure in front of the parsonage. If you peek at the parsonage, you'll see a better spring beauty than before.

After planting, I cleaned around the parsonage and came across a surprise behind it. There's an oval-shaped spot where I had once tried to build a mini garden, even before the pandemic. A couple of years ago, I gave up managing it after repeated failures. But to my amazement, I saw a handful of tulips blooming!

Those beautiful flowers, blooming in a place I had abandoned, stirred a deep question in me: if nature has the power to bring forth life from neglect, failure, or abandonment, then how much more power does our loving God have for us even when we are in such situations of negligence, failure, and abandonment?

God's steadfast love found us out and planted within us the seed of regeneration and sanctification. Apostle Paul once experienced that seed growing, blooming, and bearing fruit within him. As he proclaimed, "I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I now live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me" (Galatians 2:20).

So may you experience God's steadfast love for you, and may Jesus Christ—the seed within you—be revealed through your life: in faithfulness and fruitfulness. For in Him, nothing is wasted, and everything can bloom again.

Servant of God and God's people, ~Sung
