The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy kingdom come;
thy will be done;
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation;
but deliver us from evil,
For thine is the kingdom,
the power and the glory, forever. Amen

Twentieth Sunday after Pentecost, Year A

Prayer of People (Ann Siddall. Adapted)

Gracious God,
We remember the mystery of your work of redemption.
You chose to heal a broken world not through worldly might,
but through the silent obedience and sacrifice of your Servant,
who was despised, rejected, and acquainted with grief.

Shepherding God,
like sheep we have all gone astray, turning each to our own way.
Forgive our self-reliance and our inclination toward self-pity.
As you laid upon your Servant the guilt of us all, restore us.

God of justice and compassion,
look upon our world where many suffer in obscurity.
Be near to the marginalized, the oppressed, and the isolated.
As your Servant bore our infirmities and carried our sorrows,
sustain all who are bruised in body, mind, or spirit,
and wrap them in your healing peace.

Enliven our desire for your everlasting righteousness, that through your Servant, our lives may testify
to your abundant mercy and redeeming love...

All: Gracious God, we bow before you,
remembering the one who was pierced for our redemption.
Today, cleanse our hearts by his wounds,
fill us with gratitude for his life,
and draw us into a right relationship with you. Amen.

Isaiah 53:1-12

¹ Who has believed what we have heard? And to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed? ² For he grew up before him like a young plant and like a root out of dry ground; he had no form or majesty that we should look at him, nothing in his appearance that we should desire him.

³ He was despised and rejected by others; a man of suffering and acquainted with infirmity, and as one from whom others hide their faces he was despised, and we held him of no account. ⁴ Surely he has borne our infirmities and carried our diseases, yet we accounted him stricken, struck down by God, and afflicted.

⁵ But he was wounded for our transgressions, crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the punishment that made us whole, and by his bruises we are healed. ⁶ All we like sheep have gone astray; we have all turned to our own way, and the Lord has laid on him the iniquity of us all.

⁷ He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he did not open his mouth; like a lamb that is led to the slaughter and like a sheep that before its shearers is silent, so he did not open his mouth. ⁸ By a perversion of justice he was taken away. Who could have imagined his future?

For he was cut off from the land of the living, stricken for the transgression of my people. ⁹ They made his grave with the wicked and his tomb with the rich, although he had done no violence, and there was no deceit in his mouth.

¹⁰ Yet it was the will of the Lord to crush him with affliction. When you make his life an offering for sin, he shall see his offspring and shall prolong his days; through him the will of the Lord shall prosper.

¹¹ Out of his anguish he shall see; he shall find satisfaction through his knowledge. The righteous one, my servant, shall make many righteous, and he shall bear their iniquities.

¹² Therefore I will allot him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he poured out himself to death and was numbered with the transgressors, yet he bore the sin of many and made intercession for the transgressors.
